

AAUW Evening Stroll in the Ruth Bancroft Garden

Featuring Special Outdoor Japanese Ikebana Exhibit “Artscapes in the Garden”

May 21, 5:30 – 6:30 pm

Time reserved for DAW ticket holders;
Public welcome with DAW ticket purchase

The Danville-Alamo-Walnut Creek Branch of the American Association of University Women is collaborating with the world-famous Ruth Bancroft Garden, Walnut Creek. Garden innovation and education are the hallmarks of this organization. The premise of this 3.5-acre garden is the exceptional development of water conserving plants as well as cutting edge design.

Tickets are $40 and include:

- Self-guided tour brochure with map and current blooms descriptions
- Party favor packets for each attendee.
- Courtesy on-site parking
- Garden basket raffle opportunity
- Refreshments available based on then-current County Guidelines thanks to event sponsor

Crafts for a Pretty Penny

Sogetsu ikebana by Sharon Suimei Doi willow, ponytail fern, aeonium and yellow aeonium flower

This is an AAUW private event supporting our Local Scholarships for Women

Order your tickets on our website by clicking Here or purchase at East Bay Flower Company in the Danville Livery

